Children and adults with impairments and special needs are more vulnerable to health issues, require additional assistance, and rely on others to attain and maintain good health. One of their most critical health demands is a clean mouth, which will be influenced by your capacity to provide the appropriate support. Many parents/caregivers of people with special needs, on the other hand, lack sufficient knowledge or understanding of special care dentistry and homecare regimens for these people, putting them at greater risk of poor oral health outcomes. An informative session on oral hygiene awareness was taken by Dr. Marium Raheema (Professor, Dept of Pedodontics & Preventive Dentistry). The team included a staff, PG, Interns, Final year Part I students and demonstrated oral hygiene and brushing techniques to the caretakers & inmates of the institution. A total of 5 caretakers and 12 inmates were benefitted by the informative session.

Dental care for people with disabilities necessitates specific knowledge and skills, as well as increased community awareness of good oral hygiene habits. Individuals with particular health requirements are more prone to oral disorders throughout their lives, according to studies. Oral health difficulties can lead to major health problems, which can have a substantial impact on an individual's quality of life. As a result, more emphasis should be placed on improving the oral health of individuals, particularly those with unique medical needs. KMCT DENTAL COLLEGE

WORLD ORAL HEALTH DAY -20TH MARCH 2017

Every year March 20th is celebrated as World Oral Health Day. It is an international day to celebrate the benefits of a healthy mouth and to promote worldwide awareness of the issues around oral health and the importance of oral hygiene to looking after everyone old and young. This day is also meant to stress on the importance of oral health in safe guarding general health and wellbeing.

'Live Mouth Smart' the theme for this year, places emphasis on the smart decisions that people can take about oral health throughout life by preventive measures – good oral hygiene, regular dental check-ups - and by self-managing oral disease risk factors – smoking, alcohol, sugar, etc - which are identical to those for other non-communicable diseases such as diabetes or cardiovascular disease.

ACTIVITY REPORT

Venue: UL Care Nayanar Sadhanam (ULCCS) Date: 04/10/2021

Speaker: Dr Mariyam Raheema

Children and adults with impairments and special needs are more vulnerable to health issues, require additional assistance, and rely on others to attain and maintain good health. One of their most critical health demands is a clean mouth, which will be influenced by your capacity to provide the appropriate support. Many parents/caregivers of people with special needs, on the other hand, lack sufficient knowledge or understanding of special care dentistry and homecare regimens for these people, putting them at greater risk of poor oral health outcomes. An informative session on oral hygiene awareness was taken by Dr. Marium Raheema (Professor, Dept of Pedodontics & Preventive Dentistry). The team included a staff, PG, Interns, Final year Part I students and demonstrated oral hygiene and brushing techniques to the caretakers & inmates of the institution. A total of 5 caretakers and 12 inmates were benefitted by the informative session.

EXTENSION PROGRAMME (UL CARE NAYANAR SADHANAM) FOR ACADEMIC YEAR 2019-2020

ORAL HEALTH AWARENESS SESSION

ACTIVITY REPORT

Venue: UL Care Nayanar Sadhanam (ULCCS) Date: 09/12/2019

Speaker: Dr Rohit Mohan

Everyone is susceptible to common oral disorders. For children and adults with unique health care needs, however, these typical oral disorders can be considerably more challenging. Children and adults with special needs are more likely to experience oral problems. Oral health concerns tend to worsen if dental care is postponed. In the long run, it is not uncommon for these people to require extensive dental care as a result of their poor oral hygiene. A session on oral health awareness was taken by Dr. Rohit Mohan (Senior Lecturer, Dept of Oral Pathology & Microbiology). The team included a staff, PG's, Interns, Final year Part I students and demonstrated measures to improve oral hygiene to the caretakers & inmates of the institution. A total of 7 caretakers and 22 inmates were benefitted by the interactive session.

4th post operative day | 10th post operative day

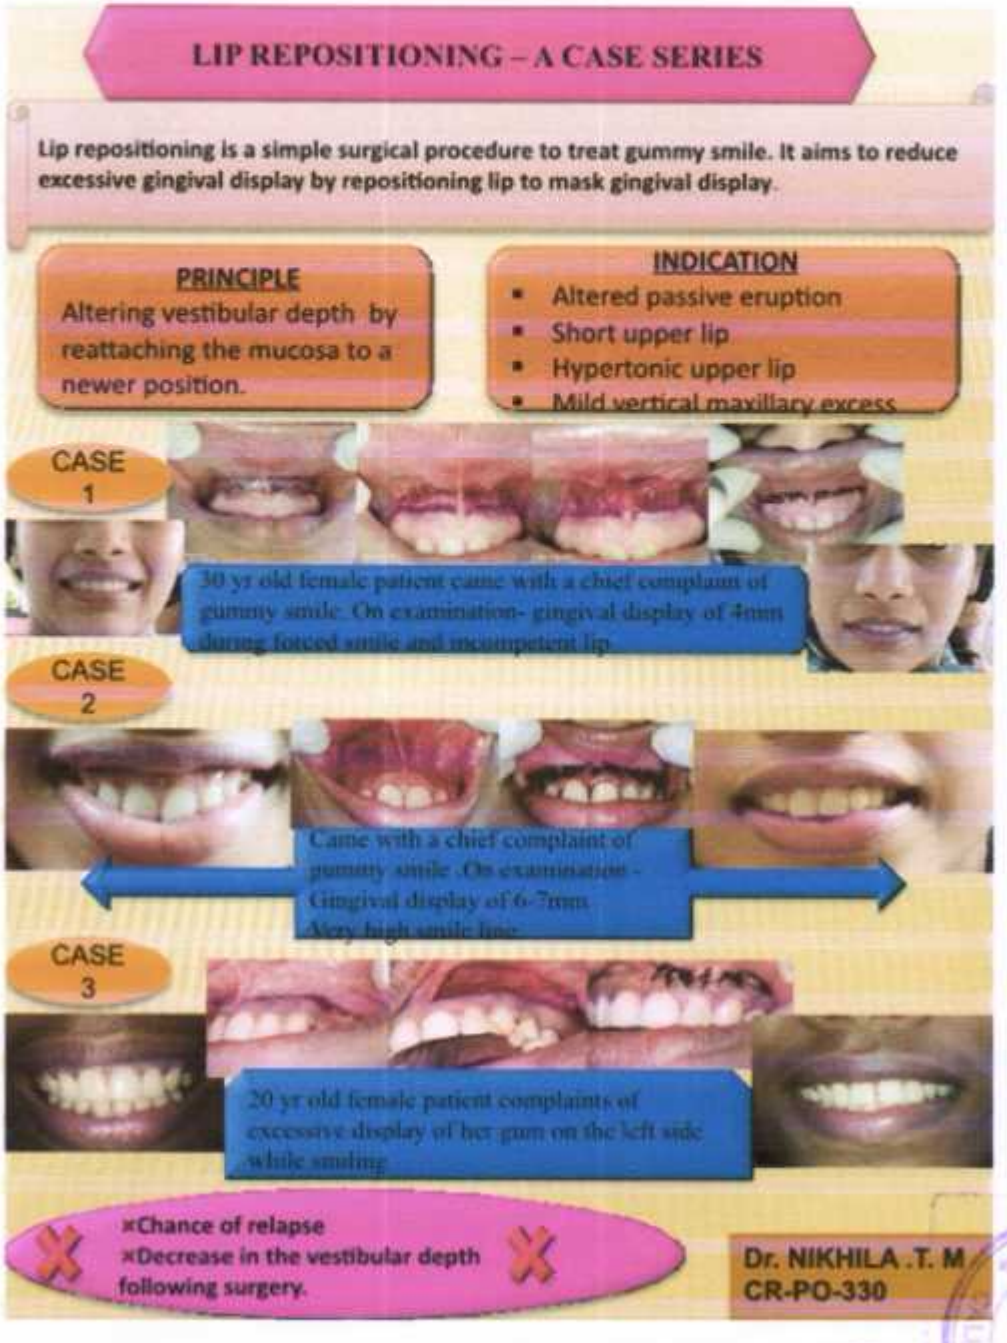

Gingival biotype, clinician's expertise, patient preferences greatly determine the selection of a technique. Recurrence is a major concern which may vary with each individual. Further studies are required for the scientific validation of this procedure with longer period of post operative evaluation.

PREVALENCE OF GINGIVAL STATUS IN WOMEN DIAGNOSED WITH POLYCYSTIC OVARIAN SYNDROME PRIOR TO INFERTILITY TREATMENT-A CROSS SECTIONAL STUDY

INTRODUCTION
Polycystic ovarian syndrome and Periodontal diseases are associated with low grade systemic inflammation

AIM To evaluate gingival status in women diagnosed with PCOS and to compare severity of gingival inflammation in different clinical phenotypes

METHODOLOGY

Study design
Cross sectional study

Sample size
100

Study setting
Patients in OPD of ARMC, Calicut who were diagnosed with pcos prior treatment was recruited for this study

INFLAMMATION

ROTTERDAM CRITERIA :
Clinical and /or biochemical hyper androgenism.
Oligo ovulation/ an ovulation.
Polycystic ovaries based on ultra sonic or radiographic findings.

FOUR MAJOR CLINICAL PHENOTYPES OF POLYCYSTIC OVARY SYNDROME

Clinical Features	Classic PCOS	Ovulatory PCOS	Mild PCOS
Hyperandrogenism	Yes	Yes	No
Chronic anovulation	Yes	No	No
Polycystic ovaries	Yes	Yes	Yes

RESULTS:
The mean OHI -S score differed significantly among the groups (P=0.002) and across the group.
Gingival inflammatory changes are attributable to the severity of systemic inflammation.

CONCLUSION : Individuals diagnosed with PCOS have high prevalence of gingival inflammation. There is association between the systemic inflammatory status of PCOS and gingival inflammation.

A CROSS SECTIONAL STUDY ON THE RELATIONSHIP BETWEEN SERUM LIPID PROFILE, BMI AND CHRONIC PERIODONTITIS

Periodontitis is a chronic multifactorial , infectious disease of the gingiva and supporting structures of tooth .

OBJECTIVES

This study attempts to find out relationship between serum lipid profile, BMI, and chronic periodontitis

ARMAMENTARIUM

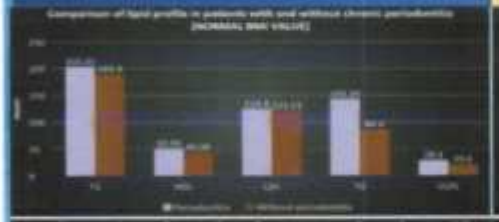

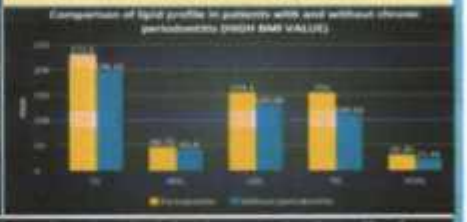

METHODOLOGY

Study sample Total 60 subjects
30 – with Periodontitis, 30- without periodontitis. The study sample is grouped based on the Classification of BMI by WHO for Asian population. The periodontal parameters, lipid profile and BMI values are compared and results are subjected to statistical analysis.

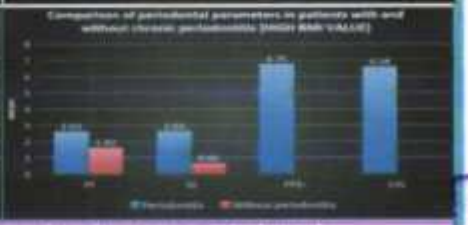

CLASSIFICATION OF BMI BY WHO FOR ASIAN POPULATION

BMI category	Cut off value (kg/m²)
Under weight	<18.5
Normal	18.5-22.9
Overweight	23-24.9
Obese	≥25

RESULT

When comparing the mean periodontal parameters in patients having high BMI value, the OLPI values are higher among those having periodontitis than without periodontitis and it is statistically significant. The mean serum lipid values are comparatively higher in those having periodontitis than without periodontitis and it is statistically significant.

CONCLUSION

As the BMI increases there is an increase in severity of periodontal diseases. Also the periodontal infection has a role in altering the lipid metabolism.
