If you sustain a needlestick injury, take the following actions immediately:

- Wash the wound with soap and water.
- Alert your supervisor and initiate the injury reporting system used in your workplace.
- Identify the source patient, who should be tested for HIV, hepatitis B, and hepatitis C infections. Your workplace will begin the process to test the patient by seeking consent.
- Report to employee health services, the emergency department, or other designated treatment facility.
- Get tested immediately and confidentially for HIV, hepatitis B, and hepatitis C infections.
- Get PEP in accordance with CDC guidelines when the source patient is unknown or tests positive for:
    - HIV: Start prophylaxis within two hours of exposure. HIV PEP should include a four-week regimen of two drugs (zidovudine [ZDV] and lamivudine [3TC]; 3TC and stavudine [d4T]; or didanosine [ddI] and d4T) for most exposures and an expanded regimen that includes a third drug for HIV exposures that pose an increased risk for transmission. When the source patient's virus is known or suspected to be resistant to one or more of the PEP drugs, the selection of drugs to which the source patient's virus is unlikely to be resistant is recommended.
    - Hepatitis B: If vaccinated no treatment, but if unvaccinated get HBIG and initiate HB vaccine series.
    - Hepatitis C: No treatment is currently recommended, but you may want to consult a specialist about experimental PEP.
- Document the exposure in detail, for your own records as well as for the employer and for workers' compensation. Under the new needlestick law, employers must maintain a confidential sharps injury log that contains, at a minimum, the type and brand of device involved in the incident, the department or work area where the exposure incident occurred, and an explanation of how the incident occurred.

Follow-Up:

- Get confidential follow-up, post-exposure testing at six weeks, three months, and six months, and depending on the risk, at one year.
- Receive monitoring and follow-up of PEP.
- Take precautions (especially by practicing safe sex) to prevent exposing others until follow-up testing is com[illegible]
