1) CLEANING AND SHAPING

Introduction

- Goal of endodontic therapy is the complete removal of periapical lesion and necrotic or damaged pulp.
- In order to achieve this proper cleaning and shaping is necessary.
- Objectives of cleaning and shaping include
 - 1) Complete removal of the root canal content
 - 2) To obtain a clean operating field for instrumentation.
 - 3) Taper the root canal for proper obturation.
 - 4) Removal of all types of microorganisms.

Schilder's objectives of cleaning and shaping.

Schilder's gives 5 objectives of biomechanical preparation.

Objective 1 - To create a gradual tapering of the canal.

This is to provide proper obturation technique and also for proper instrumentation.

Instruments are tapered towards the tip. In order to achieve proper instrumentation the canal should be tapered towards the apical foramen.

Objective 2 - Preparation should be in multiple plane. This will create a proper path for instrumentation and ease of obturation.

Objective 3 - Canal should be made coronally and wider apically.

PART II

ROLL NO: 38

OMES

1) Introduction:-

- One of the most common location of fracture of mandible is the condyle.
- The reason for this is explained with the concept of Hunting Bow principle.
- The Condylar fracture can occur by following 3 ways:-
 - 1) Force imparted by the kinetic energy of a moving object on a stationary individual.
 - 2) Kinetic energy of moving individual on a stationary object — PARADE GROUND FRACTURE.
 - 3) Kinetic energy imparted by a moving object on a moving individual.

CLASSIFICATION OF CONDYLAR FRACTURE

McLennan's classification

- 1) No displacement :- Condylar fracture without displacement of fractured segment's.
- 2) Deviation :- Fractured condyle is slightly angulated with no displacement.
- 3) Displacement :- Medially/laterally displaced Condylar fragment.
- 4) Dislocation :- Condylar segment is dislocated.

The students were asked to send a mail to the new department mail id created for addressing the greivences. The concerns were then discussed in the grevience cell formulated in the department including the Head of the department, a professor, reader and senior lecturer.and it was decided to review and re-evaluate those papers by two different teachers so that we get an unbiased assessment. For future improvement it was decided to include tough, moderately tough and easy questions in each question paper and will be evaluated by two different examiners .if there is a difference of more than 10 marks it will be evaluated by a third examiner .This will ensure fairness and transparency in evaluation

Essay

① Maxillomandibular Jaw relationship - is the spatial relationship of maxilla to the mandible.

It is classified as:

□ Oriental jaw relation

□ Vertical jaw relation

- at rest

- at occlusion

□ Horizontal jaw relation - It is the anteroposterior and side to side relation of mandible in horizontal plane.

- Centric

- Eccentric - protrusive

- lateral
