E COURSES /E CONTENTS DEVELOPED

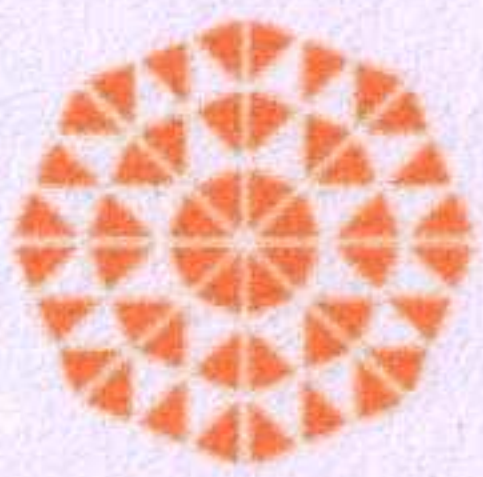

E-courses developed by dental staff cover a wide array of topics and can vary in their depth, format, and target audience. These courses are typically designed to provide education, training, and professional development for individuals within the dental field, including dentists, dental hygienists, dental assistants, and other related professionals. Core Dental Procedures: These courses often cover fundamental dental procedures such as cavity fillings, root canals, tooth extractions, dental cleanings, and more. They might include step-by-step guides, videos

Specialized Treatment Areas: e-courses focus on specific dental specialties like orthodontics, periodontics, endodontics, pediatric dentistry, prosthodontics, or oral surgery. These courses delve deeply into the unique procedures, tools, and best practices within these specialized areas.
