On the world anti tobacco day, a series of impactful events were organized by the Union Batch in collaboration with the Public Health Department and the NSS Unit. These events took place in front of the office and saw enthusiastic participation from students, interns, postgraduates, teaching, and non-teaching staffs. The day's activities were centered around promoting public health awareness, particularly focusing on the dangers of tobacco use.

The day's proceedings began with a solemn and significant pledge ceremony led by Dr. Harish Kumar , the Head of the Department of Periodontics. Dr. Harish Sir emphasized the importance of maintaining a tobacco-free lifestyle for overall health and well-being. His pledge inspired attendees to commit to avoid tobacco use, setting a positive example for the community.

Following the pledge, the NSS Unit presented a thought-provoking mime performance. This silent yet powerful act highlighted the adverse effects of tobacco use on health, relationships, and society.

To further the cause of tobacco awareness, an awareness rally was organized. Participants, including students, interns, postgraduates, and staff, marched through the surrounding areas, holding banners and placards with anti-tobacco messages. The rally attracted attention from the local community, spreading the message far and wide.

In a creative twist, a live painting competition was held, allowing participants to express their views on tobacco use and its effects through art. The competition saw a diverse range of artistic interpretations, from poignant and thought-provoking pieces to more abstract and symbolic works.

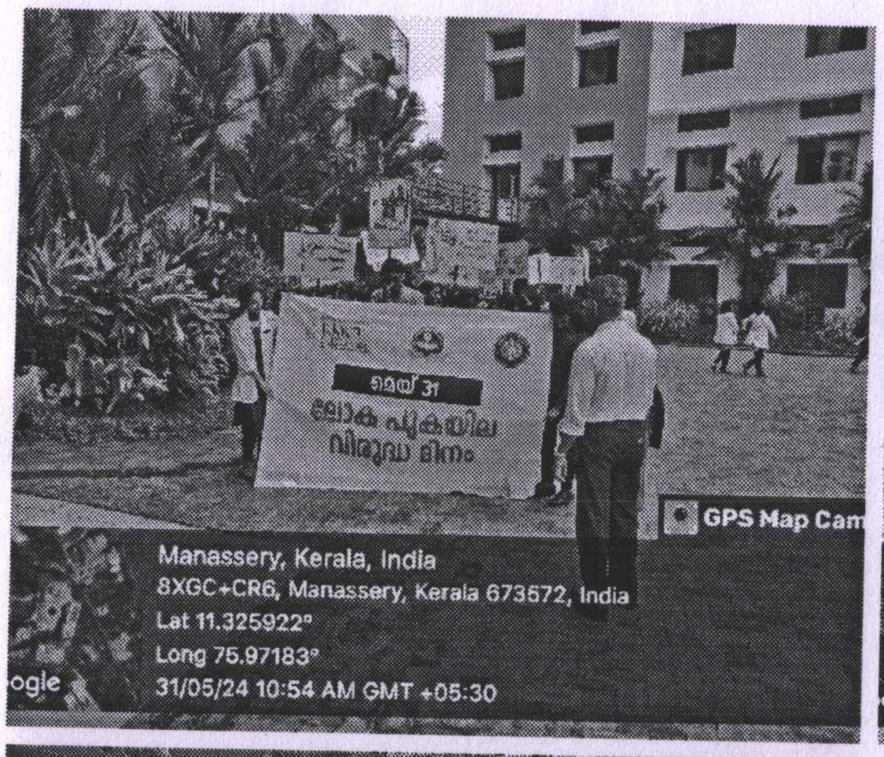

The day concluded with a highly engaging treasure hunt competition. This event was designed not only for fun but also to educate participants about public health issues, including tobacco use. Clues and challenges were strategically placed, requiring participants to think critically and work as a team. The treasure hunt was a memorable experience, combining learning with enjoyment and reinforcing the day's messages in an interactive manner.
